Global Colleague
Improving the Process of Law

Providing practical solutions for information-governance challenges — including consulting and managed services for internal investigations, legal hold, data retention and legal discovery.

Not all information-governance and legal-consulting companies are created equal. Global Colleague was founded and is operated by veterans of the litigation-support industry. Our teams can operate in multiple native languages, including English, Chinese, Spanish and other languages, with deep experience working in multinational corporations. We have managed document collections and review, and provided many other critical services, for some of the world's most complex legal matters on behalf of leading law firms and Fortune companies.

Our proven expertise allows us to meet—and exceed—client expectations in all major regions of the world, delivering material savings on legal expenditures of 40 percent or more. While thorough and comprehensive, Global Colleague is committed to delivering immediate value. We blend industry best practices with a uniquely flexible approach, focusing on the areas where the greatest savings can be quickly realized for our clients.

Whether you're looking for short consulting or project-based services, or longer-term assistance, Global Colleague cost-effectively provides immediate expertise you may not have in-house. We also close the frequent communications gap between legal and IT, and all the other vital departmental stakeholders; from human resources and compliance to audit, privacy, and risk. Clients rely on us to select the correct technology, to develop a defensible and repeatable process, and to keep lines of communication open among all key stakeholders. Not surprisingly, many of our associates are experienced and certified project managers in addition to their considerable legal expertise.

Consulting
Includes maturity assessments, process design, solution development and implementa-tion, and training. We can quickly assess the "big picture" and advise on the best information-governance approach.

E-Discovery
Experience is crucial in e-discovery. We understand the legal obligations pertaining to how evidence must be identified, gathered, preserved, processed, reviewed and analyzed, and produced for litigation.
Managed Services
Our clients realize greatest value by having us manage their e-discovery, legal hold, and other information-governance processes more cost effectively and efficiently.

Our sweet spot?

At the hub of effective information analytics, connecting all key stakeholders with smart processes and on-target technology.

Clients rely on us to select the correct technology, to develop a defensible and repeatable process, and to keep lines of communication open among all key stakeholders.

PROCESSES + TECHNOLOGY

KEY STAKEHOLDERS

PROCESSES + TECHNOLOGY

KEY STAKEHOLDERS

Senior Management
Risk
Information Technology
Legal Compliance
Human Resources
Audit
Privacy

Global Colleague

---

A Conversation with Global Colleague

Q: What are some of the challenges your clients face?

A: Constantly evolving technology means the amount of information companies must create, manage and store is overwhelming. This, coupled with increasingly complex legal obligations and the silo structure of many corporations, makes cross-functional communication both essential and difficult.

Q: How do you help them?

A: Clients rely on us to select the correct technology, to develop a defensible and efficient process, and to keep lines of communication open between all key stakeholders.

Q: How does Global Colleague make information governance more affordable?

A: Companies don't need to spend six figures and many months to determine a course of action. We have proven this process doesn't need to be complex or expensive. We combine the best proactive industry standards with our own proven practical approach, which quickly provides a general overview and assessment of major risks. This allows us to identify "the low-hanging fruit" that can save clients time and money.

Q: What's special about your e-discovery services?

A: We have aggregated all aspects of the process into a single price point. We don't artificially break out "advanced analytics" or "predictive coding" and offer them at additional price points. Our process and pricing encourages use of the best tools. We've connected price to process.

---

Global Colleague LLC • 8300 Greensboro Drive, Suite 800 • McLean, Virginia 22102 • +1 866 376 2293

info@globalcolleague.com • www.globalcolleague.com